Chester R. Sunderlin, deceased

There may be a lump-sum death benefit payable due to the death of the above named employee. Information indicates that you have assumed responsibility for payment of the employee's burial expenses. Therefore, you may (1) authorize us to pay the lump sum direct to the funeral home to be applied against the unpaid portion of the funeral home expenses, or (2) you may wait and have the payments made to you after you have paid the burial expenses.

If you wish to authorize payment of the lump sum to the funeral home, or if someone else is paying any part of the burial expenses, please contact our office immediately.

If you wish to have the lump-sum payment made to you after you have paid the burial expenses, you must furnish the documents checked below before a final determination may be made about your right to payment.

- [x] Application Form AA-21
- [x] Proof of death
- [ ]
- [x] Proof of payment of burial expenses (273a)
- [ ] Copy of letters of administration or letters testamentary

The instructions on the back of this letter are to aid you in furnishing the document(s) checked above. Please follow the instructions carefully so that your claim may be handled without delay.

An application for the lump sum must be filed with the Board on or before the second anniversary of the employee's death. We suggest that you file your application as soon as the burial expenses have been paid. If the expenses will not be paid within the two-year period, you should still file an application before the end of that period.

If you have any questions or if you have difficulty in securing the required documents, please contact our office for assistance. If you write us, give a telephone number at which you can be reached.

Very truly yours,

Zana Koroulakis

Survivor insurance benefits are not payable to you under the Railroad Retirement Act because the employee was not insured under that Act for death benefits.

You may be entitled to survivor benefits under the Social Security Act. Those benefits would be based on the employee's combined railroad and social security earnings. Survivor benefits are payable by either the Railroad Retirement Board or the Social Security Administration, but not by both, even though the employee may have received benefits from both agencies while he was alive.

We have transferred the claims material in our file to the Social Security Administration. You will hear from them shortly about your entitlement under the Social Security Act.

Very truly yours,
